Introduction

This document contains information and pricing details regarding our ITIL® Online (Annual) Subscription services designed for business organisations.

For peace of mind, ITSM Assist is a private limited company registered in England and Wales, and promote the official Axelos®/PeopleCert® accredited training organisation (ATO) status. Axelos are the owners of ITIL and PeopleCert are the official examination institute (EI) for Axelos.

What is the online live subscription service?

Our online subscription services are designed for business organisations so that they can book students (employees) on our prescheduled (UK time zone) ITIL® online live certification courses as and when required, at the agreed reduced (discounted) price per student. We offer 2 x online subscription services, i) Online Foundation and, ii) Online Upper-Level.

Purpose?

The purpose is provide business organisations with an extremely affordable and flexible ITIL learning and development (L&D) platform. This is so that these organisations can put any number of students through the ITIL certification scheme during the subscription period as and when required, without the pressure of placing numbers of students on any one course in order to meet volume discounts.

Why do we offer this?

Because today's modern business world presents an environment that is volatile (constantly changing and unpredictable), uncertain (cannot be relied upon), complex (groups of related/interactive things), and ambiguous (more than one interpretation/unclear), business strategies must therefore, structure for agility. Equally, business strategies must cascade into IT service management (ITSM)-related strategies because today, ITSM is the fibre of every business activity!

To realise these strategies, agility combined with a service mindset must be adopted organisation-wide, not in parts. Meaning, in this case, people adopting ITIL practices, principles and methodologies in one's and two's (e.g., in a siloed approach) is not enough, everyone must collaborate and therefore, such ITSM-related practices, principles and methodologies must become part of the fibre of the business regardless of people's specialism(s). It is indeed people that makes things happen!

So, when we consider ITIL, we want everyone to be Foundation literate, and many to become ITIL Masters. Unfortunately, affordability limits this aspiration unless however, we can make this aspiration affordable!

What are the benefits?

1. Significant financial savings over a 12-month period.
Calculating the inclusion of the respective annual subscription fee, placing a total of 6 x students on our prescheduled online live ITIL courses over a 12-month period, benefits an immediate financial saving compared with our normal pricing model. However, the more students the more significant the financial saving becomes, thus reducing cost constraints (see section 'Pricing Comparisons').
2. Positively contributes to an organisation's service strategy.
It is a collaborative effort that achieves an organisation's strategy, and our ITIL online live annual subscription services are designed to promote such a collaborative effort.
3. Promotes a strong commitment to 'investment in people'.
From a learning and development perspective, employees will use knowledge to make them more agile, and in turn have a greater sense of purpose!

4. The best of both worlds.

As part of the online subscription service, whilst you can place students individually on preschedule courses as and when, if in the event where you are able to place a minimum of 10 x students on the same course date, then whilst the agreed price per student remains the same, you have the option with 10 x students attending the same course date to make the course exclusive to your organisation only. So you benefit the best of both worlds, ad-hoc student bookings and the option to make it exclusive.

See section, frequently asked questions (FAQs) for more information.
